EXPLANATORY.

In the daily edition of THE TIMES, of the 9th instant, there appeared a letter from a correspondent at Yale, headed "Justice at Yale," and signed "Junius." The letter deals with the manner in which the Chief of Police, at Yale, administers the law. Charges of a very grave nature are preferred against that official which, if true, must jeopardise his position. It is generally supposed that a writer, ere he prefers charges against officials, satisfies himself in every particular as to the correctness and authenticity of his statements. "Junius," it now appears, had been misinformed as to the actual facts of the case and so soon as he became aware of this, he at once wrote this office, desiring the suppression of his letter, stating that he had been misled in the matter; that the Chief had refunded the money he took as security for the appearance of the party mentioned as soon as the case had been tried. This letter did not reach THE TIMES office until several days after the first one had been published. In his letter "Junius" states that if his letter containing the charges referred to had already been published, he would deem it but right, and a duty he owed the Chief, to publish an ample retraction over his own signature, acknowledging his error and completely exonerating that official of any irregular conduct in the matter. Our correspondent having observed the published letter it was expected that the apology would be forthcoming ere this. However we expect to lay it before our readers within a few days. In the meantime, THE TIMES regrets exceedingly that it was made the medium through which to convey to the public the impression that an official, in the employ of the government, was acting in such an irregular manner as our correspondent's letter would make it appear. It is not our wish or desire to do any one an injustice, and especially so those who are engaged in the administration of the law. The ends of justice, at times, may make the action of the law officers appear strange to the laity, and occasionally call for comment from the press, but never yet have we accused any one of such conduct as Junius charges the Chief of Police at Yale with. From all we can learn of that official—and he is well known in Victoria—we believe him to be a thoroughly honest, painstaking officer, altogether unworthy of the insinuations and charges preferred against him. We have not heard from that gentleman, but as a matter of justice and fair play to him, we deem this a fitting occasion to render him that, which under all the circumstances, he is clearly entitled to receive at our hands.

THE claim of the Chinese to being the discoverers of America is again being discussed in New York. MR. EDWARD VISDEL, in his new book, "The Discoverer of America; or, an Uncelebrated Columbus," reiterates the story from the original Chinese sources of the landing of HWUI SHIN and a party of Buddhist monks on the coast of Mexico about the year 500 A. D. The spot marked out is about 20,000 Chinese miles east from Kamtchatka. There is also a record that the indigenous populations reached a high degree of civilization. The houses were small, and of wood; stone dwellings were not known. The people knew how to write, and used a paper made from cotton wool. They wore garments of fine linen. There was no iron, but copper, gold and silver existed in large quantities. Also the fact is on record of the Spaniards finding at Quivera the wrecks of large ships, which MR. VISDEL feels assured were of Chinese origin. The Hurons also had a tradition that ages ago their ancestors were visited by beardless men clad in silk and wearing pig tails.

A COLLEGE near Philadelphia has secured as mathematical professor, Miss CHRISTINE SCHRY, D. Sc., who was eighth and the first woman wrangler at Cambridge in 1880. Girton College, where Miss SCHRY was very successful as a mathematical lecturer, presented her, on leaving, with an physical retort and an illuminated address in token of admiration and esteem.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

At a general meeting of the Montreal branch of the Federal League, held in that city last week, which was largely attended by influential gentlemen, MR. R. R. DOBELL, of Quebec, delivered a lengthy and eloquent address. He traced the general growth of the movement since its inception in England. He was of the opinion that no scheme for federation will carry much weight that does not embrace a comprehensive scheme for the interchange of commodities between the colonies themselves, and between them and Great Britain on sound fiscal principles. In Canada it is harder to-day to initiate this than it was a few years ago; then capital to a serious amount had not been invested in manufactories which need protective duties to keep them up, but he believed that the direct communication with the Pacific ocean, the nearness of the large markets in China and Japan, will do much to obviate the evil that always exists from pampering any industry. Canada should aim to manufacture, not only as cheaply, but a little cheaper than other countries; the necessaries of life should be lower than in England or the United States, thus enabling the operatives to live on less than they can do elsewhere. This alone will enable Canada to have the markets of the world to deal with, and relieve her from any apprehension of entering the arena to consider the future fiscal policy of the Empire. A great advantage, too, would arise from a council of the whole Empire meeting and discussing either great questions of the defence of the Empire, or arrangements for a fiscal policy. In concluding, MR. DOBELL said that he had the greatest confidence that the best results for the people of Canada will be obtained, not by annexation, but by maintaining a healthy rivalry with our neighbors of the United States in the desire for general advancement, and for perfecting our constitution, which is based on civil and religious liberty.

On motion of MR. MCLENNAN, seconded by MR. ANDREW ROBERTSON, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, that the Montreal branch of the Imperial Federation league recommend for the consideration of the Dominion league that in any basis for Imperial Federation suggested should be included a trade interchange between the component parts of the Empire upon terms more favorable than those extended to foreign countries unless such foreign countries should establish reciprocal trade relations with the proposed federation."

MR. GEORGE HAGUE, manager of the Merchants' Bank, disapproved of trade questions being introduced in the platform of the league, for they were likely to provoke difference of opinion in England as well as in Canada. He thought that a closer union with the Mother Country was indispensable, but he also thought it rather premature to nominate any scheme.

ADMIRATION AND HATRED.

Party feeling is running to great extremes in Britain at present. While there be many that entertain a passionate admiration for MR. GLADSTONE, there are also those whose hatred of that gentleman is equally strong. A contemporary remarks that on one side are people whom no proofs of his unwisdom, however signal, no catastrophe of his policy, however disastrous, in Ireland or in Egypt, will convince that he is not absolutely to be trusted, or that it is not perfectly safe to be steered straight into a revolution so long as he is at the helm. On the other side are people whose hatred of him is little short of demoniac, and who lose sight of their duty to the commonwealth and every other consideration when their dominant antipathy is excited and there is a chance of its gratification. The other day we had an Anti-Gladstonian maniac trying to drive home against the fiend of his imagination the charge of having told a wilful lie about the time at which the news of GORDON's death reached him, in order to evade the imputation of indecent callousness in going to the play, as though any one but a political cannibal, full of party firewater, could believe that a man of MR. GLADSTONE's personal excellence would be wanting in common veracity or in common feeling. Now we have an Archdeacon adorning his office and illustrating the Christian religion by saying that having known MR. GLADSTONE for thirty years he would not trust him with a farthing, and that people who cheered for him might as well cheer for the devil. The same demon of political and personal malignity has entered the writer of the article in the London Quarterly on "The Coming Election," and the result is about as disgraceful an exhibition of the lowest, narrowest and vilest spirit of party as ever was made by an educated man at a great and dangerous crisis in the destinies of his country. That the Crimes Act was "Gladstonian" is evidently in this man's eyes a sufficient justification for throwing it over and consigning Ireland again to a reign of terrorism, murder and outrage. That MR. GLADSTONE may be prevented from returning to power is a sufficient justification for bidding for the Irish rebel vote, which the Tory writer in the Quarterly does in the most shameless manner, though not a year has passed since he and all his tribe were denouncing the Liberal Government for its treasonable slackness in putting down Irish rebellion.

IT is pointedly remarked that the man whose name gets into the paper without his consent should go and comfort the man whose name is left out when he wanted it in.

"Baxter's Barley-Bree"

THIS well-known and justly-celebrated Brand of Old Scotch Whisky is never sent out from the Proprietor's Bonded Warehouse till it has attained an age of at least Seven Years. It is generally, however, considerably older, this before it actually reaches the consumer.
The following Certificate of Purity, under the Act of Parliament of 1875, is a recent Report upon it:—
LABORATORY OF PUBLIC ANALYST,
DUNDEE, 29th July, 1885.
"I have examined a sample of J. R. Baxter's 'Barley-Bree' Scotch WHISKY, and I hereby certify that it possesses all the properties of a First Class Scotch Whisky. It has a moderate amount of aroma, and is free from Fusel Oil. I consider this Whisky of excellent quality. It is evidently thoroughly matured.
Signed, G. D. MACDOUGALD,
Fellow of the Institute of Chemistry; Public Analyst for the County of Perth, and the Burghs of Dundee, Forfar, Montrose, and Arbroath.
☞ The Public should insist upon getting this Whisky, and should take no other. They will find it the best and safest course.

THE KING OF THE DUMPS.

An Irish Sovereign Who Rules in Peace a Host of Italian Subjects.

[New York Sun.]

Years ago a large portion of the Tenth ward in South Brooklyn was known as "the Meadows." The land was barely higher than the level of the bay, and was at times overflowed for a mile. Now it is grabbroad by streets and avenues, and the few remnants of the old ponds and hollows are being rapidly filled in by the ash-cart man, the excavator, and the street-cleaner. These dumps are frequented by rag-pickers, who ransack every load taken there. For merely Irish now nearly all are Italians. With them every morning is an old Irishman, who, rain or shine, appears with a dilapidated horse and a still more dilapidated wagon, and remains until dusk or until his wagon is loaded with the rotsam and jetsam of the streets. He is known as "Mike, the King of the Dumps." His ragged Italian vassals and customers speak of him as "Il Signor Irishamerica."

When the reporter approached he was chaffering with an Italian over a piece of lead pipe the latter had unearthed in the dump. A few coins were handed over, and the metal was pitched into the ancient wagon. "There's nothing like human nature," said Mike. "Thim Eyetalians are all thieves, and that's how I make my money out of them. That fellow has got his bag full of fifty or sixty pounds of paper and rags, and now he finds that chunk of pipe. If it was you or me we'd have some friend carry it home for us, but not much will the Eyetalian. He wouldn't trust his own brother, and so he sells it to me for 15 cents. He didn't know what he was selling. It was lead pipe, but it was lined with solid block tin. I'll get about 50 cents for it. Them Eyetalians sometimes find gold and all or, but that they never sell to me. Every thing else they do. One day one of them came to me with a watch chain he had hooked out. 'Lead, no silver?' he said. I looked at it, and it looked very queer. I thought it was pewter, but it was too heavy. But I answered at a guess and said: 'No good kind of lead.' He wanted a half dollar, but I got it for a quarter. I didn't know what the stuff was, and on my way home that day stopped in at a jeweler's store and asked them. They said it was a French metal called platinum, and was worth $50. I have been laying for the same stuff ever since, but ha e never run across it a second time.

"What do I buy mostly? Metals. Iron, steel, lead, tin, brass, pewter, solder, tomato cans, wire, and the like. Then I buy rags and paper and all sorts of odds and ends. One time I bought a small bronze statue of Luther. I got it for 30 cents, and when I had cleaned it up I sold it for $5. The paper and cotton go to the paper mills; cloth, worn-out clothes, and woolen rags to the hat manufacturers; tomato cans, tin clippings, and everything with tin in it to a man who has a furnace in Jersey somewhere. He melts out all the tin and sells it, and then he casts what is left into cash-weights and other cheap castings. For zinc, bronze, copper, and pewter there's always a good demand, and they bring first-rate prices.

"There are lots of new trades to day which use up things that formerly were no good to any one. Rubber, bone, ivory, leather, horn, celluloid, cane and umbrella heads, and old bottles all pay for the picking. Of course they don't pay much. Perhaps they average $1 a day, but that's big money for an old Eyetalian woman, who lives on 50 cents a week. Them Eyetalians will do anything. They're worse than pig-tailed Chinamen. But I don't growl much. In the old days, when there was no one on the dump but Irish, I made only a couple of dollars a day, and I was young and active. Now the Eyetalians have driven everybody out of the business, and it is a very cold day when I don't make a $5 note.

Jolting as a Cure for Dyspepsia.

[New York Mail and Express.]

A druggist on Broadway said that the stage coaches were the healthiest riding vehicles in existence, none excepted. "Why, all the ladies who rode daily in them were in excellent health, as a general rule. Some who were my customers and bought a great deal of medicine to assist digestion before they began to ride on the lumbering omnibuses, never suffered from that complaint afterward. Actually, I believe riding in those coaches cured me of dyspepsia. For ten years I rode down to my store almost daily in them. When I started I had a bad case of dyspepsia. In a year I felt considerably better, and in three years I was entirely well. I attribute my recovery to the coaches. The exertion of getting in, and then the forward lunge to put the change in the box, then, perhaps, to return to the rear again and get a seat, and while on the way to fall over a half dozen laps—these were minor affairs compared to the jolting, jumping seat.

"Finally I became a coach-riding fiend. I became used to the jolts and bumps, and so far from being contented as when I could knock over several passengers in my attempt to sit down. I became an expert, and could tell others who were veteran coachers and reckless of results. It is a good feeling to have a sure sign of health. I can ride in a car now, but it is monotonous and tame and utterly without exertion. These cars running down Broadway mean indigestion and dyspepsia, for they will have to spasmodic jolts at each block to dash a man a foot or two from his seat. But I am a druggist and as a got the medicine, so I can't complain."

Society at Manhattan Beach.

[New York Times.]

A new feature of entertainment has been introduced at Manhattan Beach. The large marine amphitheatre has been changed into an exhibition hall, and twice each day during the season there will be novel entertainments in connection with a brilliant gymnastic fountain. Two wards of the fountain will be illuminated in all colors of the rainbow by electric and calcium lights. Each entertainment will begin with a series of dissolving views, after which the scene will be transformed into a variegated grotto under the sea, where Neptune will appear and summon his satellites from the deep. The official aim at present of this exhibition says: "The traditions of the ideal mermaid will be represented by young ladies sporting in the briny deep. Giant frogs, sea serpents, and all the hosts of watery life will exhibit their roles and energy to the greatest extent."

Two of Them.

[Texas Siftings.]

"Ah, Miss Smith, going walking?"

"Yes, I am just going to take my little dog out."

"Well, ah, may I have the pleasure of going a long with you?"

"If you insist, I would just as soon have two of you."

He didn't go.

Women as Hotel Guests.

[New York Herald.]

A correspondent had some curiosity recently to find what proportion of guests in New York hotels is made up of women. Of the transient guests it is only a trifle over one-tenth. In a count of 100 guests at each of the four principal hotels he found 7, 6, 13 and 11 women. In making this enumeration he took only the latest arrivals. In some of the hotels women are not desired. In no hotel of the first class are women welcomed who find accommodation difficult as in a boarding-house. In some instances of late women have been refused rooms in hotels, and in one case a lady was requested to leave a hotel because she had a baby with her.

THE CONFEDERATE CAPITAL IN 1864.

Plenty of Food for Cash—Description of Negroes—Home Guards.

[Written in Westminster Expositor.]

Contrary to the common belief, there was no lack of provisions or delicacies in Richmond at any time during the war, but the prices measured by alleged dollars were simply stupendous. I do not remember that there was any actual want or suffering among the people, although food and drink were of course economically dealt with. I recollect also that there was a bread riot of no large proportions as to call for the intervention of the military, but the women, black and white, who were the chief participants, were of the lowest class, and were instigated not by want so much as pure devilry.

It is a curious fact that what are called the lower classes fared better, as far as provisions were concerned, than the officeholders or wealthier citizens. The salaries of the officeholders, both Confederate and state, were grossly inadequate to provide for their families, and the wealthier citizens at the outset of the war had invested, almost without exception, all their available means in the 8 per cent. bonds of the Confederate government. Those who owned slaves, by hiring them out obtained large returns, for labor was in great demand; but the trouble was that the Confederate authorities conscripted all able-bodied negroes as drivers of mule teams, laborers on the fortifications, etc., just as they conscripted able-bodied whites for service in the field, and the hire given to the owners was but a little of what could have been procured in open market.

Talk about Washington being a city of boarding-houses and restaurants, why it was not a circumstance to the Confederate capital. Nearly every house, and especially of people of limited means, was filled with lodgers, and nearly every other house was an eating-house. The poorer whites and blacks made money hand over fist by cooking provisions and selling them from stands on the streets and at the depots to the huge swarms of hungry people who were constantly coming and going. The population proper of Richmond was not a fourth of the vast crowd that daily and nightly congregated within its corporate limits. It was the Mecca of the Confederacy, and the pilgrimages made thereto were constant in their coming. Officers and soldiers, Jewish merchants, "exempts," blockade-runners, refugees from Maryland and West Virginia and from counties of the state held by the Federals poured in a steady stream into the lap of the city, and the people of the city made their living, and, indeed, it may be said in many instances, waxed fat, in feeding and lodging the hungry horde.

The home guards, organized simply to defend the capital, comprised all the officials in the Confederate and state departments, and no man was exempt who was able to bear a rifle from behind a breastwork. These held no drills, but marched in a body, without regular order, to the breastworks when the alarm bell in the capitol square rang forth the warning peal of the approach of the enemy—so many strokes, I think.

Speed of Railway Trains.

[New York World.]

So many "Englishmen" have written The World criticising its statements concerning the speed of English railway trains, and asserting that their Irishmen, Scotchmen and Dutchmen averaged fifty miles an hour—some claiming a mile a minute—that the actual time as given in the official railway time-tables may be as interesting to them as it is interesting to their American friends.

The average speed of the "Flying Dutchman" is 50 miles per hour from the start at Paddington station at 10:30 a. m. to the finish at Penzance, 325½ miles from London to Exeter, 173½ miles in 4 hours, it averages 45 miles per hour, but from Exeter to Land's End it is only an "accommodation." The "Flying Scotsman" leaves the King's Cross at 10 a. m. and runs into Waverely station, Edinburgh, 299½ miles, at 7 p. m., an average speed of 41 miles per hour. Its first dash is from London to Grantham, 105 miles; its second dash is from Grantham to York, 84 miles. The 188 miles are run in 3 hours and 35 minutes, an average of 53 miles an hour. After this spurt its speed drops to 0 miles per hour, taking 5 hours and 0 minutes for the remaining 202 miles from York to Edinburgh.

The "Wild Irishman" averages only 40 miles per hour for the short run. A train runs on the London to Brighton 50 miles in 1 hour and 10 minutes, or 43 miles an hour. The 400 miles at 44 of the "Scotsman" is not only inferior as a feat to the 1,000 miles run at 41 between New York and Chicago, but inferior to the Philadelphia express, which leaves Jersey City at 4:10 p. m. and reaches the Quaker city at 5:55 p. m.—6 miles in 10 minutes, or 51 miles per hour. Short dashes at high rates of speed are common on American roads, and stories can be told by American locomotive engineers (when not under oath that would make the hair of any one of their British brethren stand on end.

De Lesseps' Vigorous Old Age.

[Paris Letter.]

Every Parisian is as familiar with De Lesseps' features as with those of his own father. Every day, rain or shine, he is to be met with in a promenade through the Bois de Boulogne in that of the canal manipulator in chief and his numerous progeny riding on ponies along the beautiful avenues of that fashionable retreat. When I saw him on the occasion already referred to I could detect the elasticity of youth in his step, as well as in his gestures. His features, nevertheless, bore the unmistakable marks and ravages of time. In fact, I must state that I have rarely met a face, and more particularly a brow, with which the plowshare of age had dealt so rudely. The wrinkles deep and ragged though they appear, were not, however, in the eyes of any intent observer, signs of decrepitude or decay; he is rather like the old and gnarled oak tree, full of strength and vigor, defying alike the blasts of winter and the snows of age.

On one occasion, not very long ago, when one of his admirers was alluding in his presence to his celebrated navy career as an engineer, De Lesseps exclaimed: "Ah, bah! don't talk of it—'tis nothing to my career as a gourmet, an after dinner orator, or a poet. I'm fond of figures and facts," he added, "and I'll prove to you the claims I have to fame in that respect. I have up to the present assisted at—approximately speaking—3,000 banquets have returned 2,700 votes of thanks, and I've seen altogether upward of 5,000,000 champagne bottles uncorked in my greater honor and glory!"

Ireland's Linen Industry.

[Belfast Letter.]

Ireland is still greatly superior to other countries in its capacity for manufacturing linen—Her spindles number 874,760. France comes next with 500,000. Then Austria and Hungary, 386,000; Germany, 318,467; Belgium, 316,040; Scotland, 233,232; England and Wales, 140,868, and Russia, 110,000.

Effects of Cultivation.

From experiments made in Germany by Professor Dr. Wolney, it appears that the air is more hygienic under a field under crop than over a fallow field, and that the temperature fluctuates less in the former case than in the latter.

—Thousands die annually from some form of kidney disease that might have been prevented by the use of hop bitters.

Indigestion, weak stomach, irregularities of the bowels, cannot exist when hop bitters are used.

A timely use of hop Bitters will keep a whole family in robust health a year at little cost.

—To produce real genuine sleep and child-like repose all night, take a little hop bitters on retiring.

☞ None genuine without a bunch of green Hops on the white label. Shun all the vile, poisonous stuff with "Hop" or "Hops" in their name.

The Daily Times.

PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY.

Victoria, Friday, Nov. 20, 1885.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

While the TIMES is always pleased to give publicity to the views of correspondents on any question of interest to the public, provided facts are given, couched in gentlemanly language, we wish it to be understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by the writers thereof.

Nor can we give room to duplicates of letters that have appeared in our contemporaries either in this city or elsewhere in the province. Correspondents, therefore, will save time and trouble in preparing such for THE TIMES, as they will be so noted.

Our space is valuable, and brevity, as far as possible, should be observed in writing on any topic, and on ONE SIDE of the sheet only.

MARRIED.

CRAIG-DUNN—At Quesnelle, on the 11th November, by the Rev. Mr. Edwards, Mr. James Craig, of Barkerville, to Miss Katie Dunn, daughter of D. D. Dunn, Esq., Quesnelle.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—GOSNELL'S HAMS will be ready in about six days.

—Only the best French and San Francisco candies at the LONDON BAZAAR.

—Before purchasing Real Estate or insuring your life, see Rand Bros.

—A Comox farmer says he found indications of coal oil in Comox valley ten years ago.

—For a good fitting set of artificial teeth go to Dr. Harbman's dental parlors, Government street. Charges moderate.

—GOSNELL'S HOME-CURED BACON is now on cut at his store, Douglas and Cormorant streets.

—Everybody to know that the LONDON BAZAAR is the cheapest place in the province for fancy goods, toys, glassware, &c.

—The weather reports yesterday from the various stations in the province generally indicated clear, bright and cool, and no snow.

—The Anti-Chinese Association meets at 7:30 to-night. The question of granting miners' certificates to Chinamen will come up for discussion.

—Beginning next week, there will be only one train per week on the E. & N. section of the C. P. R., leaving Port Moody on Saturdays at 8 a. m. and Savona on Fridays at 4 p. m.

—The Seattle Post-Intelligencer was the victim of a hoax in announcing the nuptials of Mr. W. P. Boyd of that city. It gives the name of R. M. Maddocks as the gentleman who gave that journal the item.

—The two Kelly boys, arrested at New Westminster for the killing of a Chinaman by striking him on the head with a stone, have been released on $2000 bail. The stomach of the dead man will be analyzed in Victoria, some parties holding the opinion that he died from poisoning.

—If our highly esteemed police magistrate is open to receive and act upon a good suggestion, the reporters, who sit below him every day, have one to make. It is this: The court begins its sittings at 11 a. m. and generally continues through the luncheon hour, and frequently has to adjourn until 2 p. m. The whole arrangement is inconvenient and a waste of time to all concerned. Let the court be held at 9 a. m. All the business would then be transacted before the noon hour, and the better portion of the day would not be consumed over what often proves to be very trifling and unimportant cases. Magistrate, policemen, prisoners and public would be benefited by the change. Now, Mr. Johnson, what do you think of the proposal?

—Consignees by the Geo. E. Starr: A Burns, A Ofner, A Cowan, A Wheeler, A Phillips, A Boast & Co, A Lewis & Co, B of B N A, Brown & White, C McK Smith, C Strauss & Co, C E Wood, C Morley, C McDonagh, D Green, D S Curtis & Co, E S Coster, E Harrison, H Gribble, H Young & Co, Hastings Saw Mill Co, J B Ferguson, J Houghton, J B Lovell, J J Platt, J Redmond, J E Martin, J A Cameron, J A Crawford, J Wylie, J Sehl, J A Mara, J Sullivan, L F Bareman, Langley & Co, McDonald & Co, Matthews, R & T, Neufelder & Ross, Maggie Robertson, Mrs M Spratt, Mrs Kane, M Lenz, M B Atkinson, Mrs Sullivan, Pendray & Co, Rev D Fraser, S J Pitts, Raper, Raper & Co, S Leiser, T Dunn, T N Hibben & Co, T L Briggs, T Earle, Turner, Beeton & Co, T Shotbolt, W Heathorn, W H Redmond, W Ross, W Wilson, W & J Wilson, W Grant, W G Walker, W Evans, W R Megaw, W P Wood.

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

A Budget of Exceedingly Interesting, Instructive Reading Matter.

The WEEKLY TIMES for the current week, published this (Friday) morning, like its predecessors is an exceedingly interesting number. Its contents embrace the city and province news for the week, which is exceedingly replete, notes and comments and editorials on the current topics of the day; letters to the editor; an important judgment rendered by Hon. Mr. Justice Gray affecting the liberty of the subject; Supreme Court news; the latest news by telegraph from all parts of the globe; a full account of the rebel Riel; a carefully selected miscellany; city and provincial court police news, &c. As an advertising medium THE TIMES is unrivalled, as its circulation is the largest in British Columbia, a fact which is of interest to advertisers wishing to reach the public in all sections of the province. No other journal in British Columbia can lay claim to such general excellence as the WEEKLY TIMES—the people's paper in the Canadian Northwest on the Pacific. Now is your time to subscribe; only $2 a year.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

In consequence of the insufficiency of water supply in the city, and the constant annoyance to which the water commissioner and council were put by parties drawing water outside of the corporation limits, the council resolved to cut off the water from all parties outside of the city, and gave three months notice to that effect. That time having now expired, the service has been discontinued. Legal proceedings, it is said, will be taken against the corporation. The council will meet in sorrow for the purpose of considering a petition from the aggrieved parties.

ESCAPED AND RECAPTURED.

Ah Wong, the Chinaman who broke jail at Barkerville last week and made his escape, was recaptured at Soda Creek, and he is now back in "durance vile," and wears irons on his ankles as a precaution against any future attempts to breathe the free air of the mountains without the sanction of the authorities.

FOR BRITAIN.

Mr. John Shopland leaves on Monday next for Great Britain, where he intends to purchase thoroughbred stock and bring some to this province. He will pass through Ontario and visit the Agricultural College at Guelph, and examine some of the stock to be found in that friend now on. If expects to be absent about three months.

Ice at Brewster's, Yates street, or of W Tuson.

FROM ALBERNI.

The New Settlement on the West Coast—A Splendid Future.

Mr. Thomas Wilson returned from Alberni yesterday, coming overland to Maple Bay and thence by steamer. He reports the settlement in a very prosperous condition, and the settlers, who now number eighty or over, hopeful of the future and possessing unbounded confidence in the agricultural capabilities of the valley. Among the other settlers who are putting forward every exertion in their power to develope their location, erect buildings, open trails, &c., are Messrs. Taylor, Mullett, Merrifield, Hough, Clark, Muller and others. The valley is nine miles long and about four wide, and possesses all the natural resources necessary for sustaining and enriching a large population. Game is very plentiful, geese and ducks covering the river in thousands. Among the most urgent requirements is a public school, the number of children in the settlement being almost sufficient to meet the stipulations of the school law in that respect. There are two stores owned by Messrs. Saunders and Sayward, the latter managed by Mr. F. McCallum. The postoffice is kept by Mr. Taylor, jr., and a weekly mail leaves every Tuesday morning for Nanaimo, arriving there on Wednesday night and returning again on Saturday morning. The trail to Englishman's river is almost impassable from fallen trees, while the rivers and creeks are full from recent rains. A bridge is much needed over Englishman's river, as travelers are put to great inconvenience and delay in getting across. A horse was drowned while forcing this river a few weeks ago. There was considerable snow on the mountains, but no frost had yet appeared at Alberni.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Horace MacDougall, of Winnipeg, left for home by the Starr to-day.

Messrs. Davis, Carson, Fulton and Fellowes, went to the Esquimalt graving dock, was in Ottawa on the 12th inst.

Mr. W. J. Haney, superintendent of the Ouderdonk contract, Mrs. Haney and Mrs. Murphy, have gone east over the C. P. R., to Kingston, Ont.

Mr. John Fraser has returned from Lorne creek, looking none the worse after his first season's mining operations. Although his pockets are not overflowing with dust, he has laid up a large quantity of experience which will probably prove more valuable than the filthy lucre.

The following passengers arrived today by the Geo. E. Starr: McMurray, Solinger, A Hoffmon, Bordwell, Miss Henderson, J Winter, J Kehoe, L Harris, Miss Garnet, H Crowley and wife, H F Perley, J D Wooden, J Langtry, H Barnard, M Lorimon.

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED.

To call at Santa Claus' Headquarters and see the beautiful holiday gifts, Christmas goods for the many, suitable for all. Prices that defy competition. Xmas and New Year's cards at half price at H. Gribble's, Government street, next Bank B. C.

BROKEN LEG.

Last Sunday morning, Charley Bott, while at Englishman's River, had his leg broken by his horse falling upon him. He was carried on horse-back twenty-five miles, to Nanaimo, before he could get the fracture reduced. He is now doing well.

OUR POST OFFICE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR:—I was glad to see some remarks of yours in Wednesday's paper about the irregularity of the mails, and more especially about the absence of information here—at our post office—of the probable cause of delays, or of the prospect of arrivals. I have, at all times, received the greatest courtesy at the post office, from Mr. Wallace down to the youngest clerk; so, in any criticisms I may make, I hope they will be taken as criticisms, and not as ill-natured complaints.

As you very properly said, we could not get to know why we have lately had no mails from the east for five days; nor can we now get to know if our letters from B. C. have been similarly detained. For this lack of information I blame the P. O. Department at Ottawa, and not our office here. But at the same time, why can we never hear when a mail has arrived? The Starr from the Sound arrives here generally three hours later than the Olympian, and has never been in at the time officially stated in the "Guide," issued by the post office, i. e., 10 a. m. But we never can get to know when she has arrived. On Wednesday morning we had a San Francisco mail and also the Starr mail from the Sound, but whenever a mail arrives the wickets are closed and the boldest man cannot ascertain which mail has come in, nor when it will probably be ready for distribution. Consequently people had to wait an hour or two or Wednesday with absolutely no information. How different it is at the telegraph office. There at all hours and under all circumstances there is an open wicket where you can ascertain whether the wires are down, or whether they are up, or when they are likely to be up. Should it not be so at the post office? In the afternoon we have mails from Westminster and from Nanaimo, and their arrival sometimes varies from one to two hours; yet the moment one or the other mail comes in, down go the wickets, and we have to wait; and some of us to swear a good deal before we can find out which mail is in.

It would cost nothing to put a notice in chalk, as is done at every other P. O., of the time of the arrival of any mail, and the probable time of distribution and delivery. Mr. Frank Campbell, who is the friend of all of us, would undertake such a job for the pleasure of the thing, and yet the P. O. cannot be induced to render such a simple piece of service. Pen in hand, may I ask Mr. Wallace, or Mr. Fletcher, who are both equally polite, to tell us when we are likely to have a street delivery of letters? It will not be news to either of them that in most civilized cities there is a delivery of letters at least twice a day. But then Mr. Mayor Bithet would have to make, and to consider, the streets, and so my hopes evaporate. However, if the Corporation will unite in this business with the post office and get it done, I am willing—well, what shall I say—to give $5 towards such an improvement.

A RESIDENT.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 19th, 1885.

A HOME THRUST.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—"Another Victorian" (?) in this morning's Colonist writes, that "Victorian has gone crazy and writes as if he would like to cut the editor of the Colonist throat as readily as he would stick a pig." It is conceded that to do the first the second proposition would be accomplished. OBSERVER.

The papers in connection with the Winslow B. Morgan case arrived to-day from Ottawa. Upon the arrival of an official from the United States Winslow will be transferred to the land of the brave as the home of the free.

POLICE COURT.

[Before E. Johnson, S. M.]

Friday, Nov. 20.

T—— Fort Rupert Indian, in possession of an intoxicant; fined $25 or one month.

Billy, a Fort Rupert, charged with stealing $51.25 from Henry Brain, a Mulatto. Prisoner pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one month.

Ah Too, in unlawful possession of a quantity of tobacco, valued at $20, and knowing the same to have been stolen. Officer Walsh swore to the arrest of the prisoner, at 10 o'clock last night at the corner of Fisgard and Government streets; he was then carrying the tobacco in a sack. The prisoner went with witness to point out the man from whom he said he got it but failed to find him. Officer Grant said that the prisoner, when asked where he got the tobacco, said he found it on the sidewalk on Fisgard street. Remanded till Monday, ... being fixed at $100.

Seeley, a Fort Rupert Indian, charged with being drunk; pleaded not guilty and said he was in bed at the time. Fined $5 and costs.

Adjourned till 2 p. m.

CRUELTY TO HOGS.

Victor Guille, charged with cruelty to animals, after evidence in the case had been heard, the court inflicted a fine of $10 and $4 costs. Mr. Muir for the defence.

THE TRAPPER CASE.

Wm. Moore, charged with piracy, on remand. The examination of Mr. Turner was resumed.

To Mr. Davie—The second mortgage was for $2000, dated 29th Sept., 1884, (mortgage produced), from Henry Moore to J. H. Turner. Capt. Moore asked me a few days before he ran away with the Teaser, if there was not some coal at Rivers Inlet that had been left there by him; he had reported to me after his voyage to the north, that he had left coal there. I told him, as far as I knew, that the coal had not been removed. The regular route of the steamer is to New Westminster, and on account of business arrangements could not be employed on the northern route.

To Mr. Richards—Have had connection with the steamer since she was started to be built, by advancing money. We are the owners, I believe under the mortgages. The Teaser was registered in the name of Henry Moore. I don't know that any money was advanced by any other person for building the vessel. I know the firm of York & Lenz; it was reported that they had advanced money to build her; it was $1400.

(The case is in progress.)

THE SUNDAY BY-LAW.

At a meeting of the Vintner's Association this afternoon, about thirty members being present, it was resolved to contest the legality of the city by-law closing bars on Sundays and at night. The question will be further discussed at a meeting next Tuesday. The course likely to be taken is to make a test case, the association paying the expenses of the party fined for appealing to the Supreme Court.

FOOT BALL.

The return match between the Victoria Foot Ball Club and the officers of H. M. S. Triumph will be played at Beacon Hill to-morrow afternoon. The game to commence at 3 p. m. sharp. The following are the names of the Victoria team: H. Combe, back; W. Ward, T. Tiedemann, (captain),—Hawthornthwait, half backs; H. L. Gullifie, J. V. Millington, quarter backs; E. Drake, H. Ella, W. McKay, Alf. Brealey, W. Brealey, Arthur Brealey, R. Harvey, C. Hayward, B. Williams, forwards.

HAS TO SUSPEND.

The many friends of the Rev. J. S. McKay, of New Westminster, will be pained to learn that by order of his medical adviser he has to leave the duties of the ministry for a time, and that at once, otherwise his health may become impaired beyond the possibility of recovery. He leaves in a few days for Southern California, in the hope of being able to regain his former strength.

List of letters detained for postage: R J Mc Gaw, Nicola Valley, B C; Mrs A G P Pemberton, Kingsbury, Thompson River, B C; Thomas Ledner, Ladner's Landing, B C; F J Gwynne, South Saanich, V I; A J Carey, Victoria, B C; Editor Montreal Star, Montreal, P Q; A J McDonald, Fergus Falls, Minn; A McKinley, LacLa Hache, B C; Mrs W J Miller, Forest Ontario; Mrs A Benton, New Buffalo, Dak Ty; M Halloran, Nanaimo, B C; Sabiston & Wilcox, Nanaimo B C; Caldwell & Rabb, Kamloops, B C.

FOR THE FRIENDS ABROAD

We have been shown some very pretty hand painted Xmas cards of B. C. scenery by Messrs. J. B. Ferguson & Co. For artistic taste and execution they are the finest we have seen, and just the thing to send to the friends abroad. Go and see them.

Fine Oysters.

A large bed of oysters has just been discovered by some fishermen on the Island, the bivalves being the largest and most delicious yet seen here. They are shipped direct to Joe Levy, of the Arcade, on Government street, where they will be supplied to lovers of this favorite dish.

ANOTHER MAN HELPED

At the entrance of the C. P. R. Dining Hall, Cor. Douglas and Johnson Sts., read our Bill of Fare, went up to dinner and had, he states, the best two-bit meal in town, and still there is room.

QUICK FREIGHT.

Empire Brewery.

HENNING PETERS, late of the Lion Brewery, Victoria, has started the Empire Brewery at Spring Ridge, where he is prepared to supply families with all kinds of Beer, Ale and Porter.

The Brewery is situated on Spring Ridge, and is built over a well of pure, ever running spring water. This fact enables me to manufacture the very finest brands, equal to any imported Ale, Beer and Porter.

The machinery used is of latest pattern, the ingredients are pure water, malt and hops, and a trial is only necessary to convince that the brands are the finest manufactured in the Province.

All orders for city supply, or for shipment to Island or Mainland points will receive prompt attention and a satisfactory article furnished.

"Baxter's Barley-Bree"

THIS well-known and justly celebrated Brand of Old Scotch Whisky is never sent out from the Proprietor's Bonded Warehouse till it has attained an age of at least Seven Years. It is generally, however, considerably older than this before it actually reaches the consumer.

The following Certificate of Purity, under the Act of Parliament of 1875, is a recent Report upon it:—

LABORATORY OF PUBLIC ANALYST,
Dundee, 26th July, 1883.

"I have examined a sample of Mr. R. Baxter's 'Barley-Bree' Scotch Whisky, and I hereby certify that it possesses all the properties of a First Class Scotch Whisky. It has a moderate amount of aroma, and is free from Fusel Oil. I consider this Whisky of excellent quality. It is evidently thoroughly matured.

Signed, G. D. MACDOUGALD.

Fellow of the Institute of Chemistry, Public Analyst for the County of Perth, and the Burghs of Dundee, Forfar, Montrose, and Arbroath.

The Public should insist upon getting this Whisky, and should take no other. They will find it the best and purest cognac.
